The acquisition of Cayenne Medical will strengthen Zimmer Biomet's Sports Medicine capabilities and portfolio of technically advanced soft tissue reconstruction solutions for knee, shoulder and extremities procedures.

"As a market leader in musculoskeletal healthcare, the expansion of our Sports Medicine business with Cayenne Medical's highly successful portfolio represents an exciting growth opportunity and will meaningfully advance our commitment to serving the needs of patients across the full continuum of care," said David Nolan, Group President of Zimmer Biomet's Sports Medicine, Extremities, Trauma, Biologics and Surgical businesses. "With rising demand for the clinical benefits of advanced soft tissue repair and reconstruction solutions, we greatly look forward to leveraging Zimmer Biomet's scale and specialized sales capabilities to broaden and accelerate the growth of Cayenne Medical's clinically acclaimed offerings."

"Cayenne Medical is extremely pleased to join forces with Zimmer Biomet to drive the future growth and ongoing development of our innovative sports medicine technologies," said David B. Springer, President and Chief Executive Officer of Cayenne Medical. "From the beginning, Cayenne Medical has endeavored to be a leader in the soft tissue repair and reconstruction segment of sports medicine, and this combination with Zimmer Biomet will advance our mission to solve unmet needs in this clinical area, while transforming traditional techniques with minimally invasive innovations and generating compelling cost savings in the delivery of care by surgeons, surgery centers and hospitals."
