

Zimmer Marks First Anniversary of Centerpulse Acquisition

Oct 04, 2004

WARSAW, Ind., Oct 4, 2004 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX/ -- Zimmer Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: ZMH; SWX: ZMH), a worldwide leader in the orthopaedics industry, said today that one year after the successful completion of its offer for Centerpulse AG, Europe's leading reconstructive orthopaedic company, its integration efforts are ahead of schedule and expected cost savings are greater than originally predicted. Zimmer completed the acquisition on October 2, 2003.

Since 2003, several prominent publications have recognized the success of the acquisition by naming the Zimmer-Centerpulse transaction as "deal of the year." Mergers and Acquisitions magazine and Investment Dealers' Digest both rated Zimmer-Centerpulse their "Health Care Deal of the Year." Investment Dealers' Digest noted that "To those working on it, the deal has all the makings of a sweeping epic: class-action litigation, looming bankruptcy, a clash of three vastly different regulatory regimes, massive financing requirements and several expeditiously executed divestitures." The Banker, which rated Zimmer-Centerpulse the "Deal of the Year-Switzerland," commented that "It was the biggest unsolicited bid and first successful competing bid in Swiss corporate history." Euromoney magazine named Zimmer-Centerpulse "Best M&A Deal of the Year, Western Europe."

"The success of this integration is a tribute to our 6,500 worldwide employees and the approximately 100 full-time people, both of whom have contributed thousands of dedicated hours joining these two great companies," said Ray Elliott, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Today, we have come together as one company -- the global leader in orthopaedic implants, with powerful product franchises and a reputation for working with surgeons and operating room staffs to advance their skills and knowledge to improve patient outcomes."

Zimmer has completed more than 1,800 of the 3,000-plus milestones that were identified by the company's integration teams. Those milestones represent approximately 280 individual projects, which are tracked by company management on a daily and weekly basis. Achievements to date include:

- * Raised initial estimates of annual synergy savings to $100 million
- * Initiated a worldwide supply chain strategic plan for manufacturing and distribution networks

- * In-sourced a variety of formerly out-sourced manufacturing functions
- * Created common worldwide systems for financial and quality systems
- * Implemented a global product development system to assure speed-to-market
- * Unified professional medical education efforts
- * Combined sales organizations with almost no turnover
- * Created common branding worldwide
- * Concentrated orthobiologics research in Austin, Texas
- * Completed worldwide corporate culture focus

Elliott said that while there has been tremendous progress, certain integration activities will continue for the next two years. Complete integration, for example, of all information technology systems and manufacturing production leveling are expected to be ongoing activities over the next two years.

"We positioned this combination as the Perfect Fit when we launched our offer in May 2003," said Elliott. "Our experience since then has validated that view -- these are two businesses whose geographic and technology strengths were very complementary. We expect to see value for years to come as we leverage our Americas and International strengths in Minimally Invasive Solutions(TM) Procedures and Technologies, expand the Zimmer Dental and Spine product lines with new technologies, and focus our research and development work in the exciting area of orthobiologics."
